

Scientists... With A Big "S" Substantially Aid Nature In Gladeslands' Well - Being

DR. THOMAS BREGER contemplates a field of thousands of seedlings at the Everglades Experiment Station, from which he MAY select one or two plants for further growing and experiments. In the upper picture are shown some of the seedlings that have been made and are undergoing tests to prove the qualities for which they are selected.

Forty-eight years of professional activity, with two years out of the state to settle the Kaiser's case, were relegated to the shelf on July 1st when regulations of the University of Florida demanded the retirement of Dr. Thomas Breger, Physiologist at the Everglades Experiment Station.

No crop, whether vegetable or animal, produced today in the Gladeslands is without a major influence of the scientist and experiments of the Everglades Experiment Station and like organizations.

It is fit then to consider the contribution of these scientists, of which we have many in the area in the professional progress and well being of this community.

We are using to the greatest advantage the half century of study and practice of such men as Dr. Thomas Breger? Do we as an agricultural community fully appreciate the professional, cultural and community advantages that are ours in the Group, as a whole?

Hybridization of sweet corn, sorghum, celery, sugar cane and other winter vegetables is now being practiced in the hybridization of cattle for the benefit of Gladeslands farmers.

Hybridization which has been so effective in sugarcane sorghum, celery, sweet corn, beans and other winter vegetables, is being demonstrated now from the crossing of English and Indian cattle in the Gladeslands.

Sugar cane geneticists of the USDA, U. of Florida and U. S. Sugar Corp. have long taken advantage of the dependable maturity of the tassel and pollen in the Gladeslands to produce all dependable varieties now used in both Florida and Louisiana cane sugar production.

"Tom," as he is known affectionately among Legionnaires, Rotarians, Chamber of Commerce workers, and professional associates, has spent 23 years in the Gladeslands supplementing Nature's prodigious contribution to the cane sugar industry of Florida and Louisiana in breeding and cross-breeding of sugar cane for increased tonnage.

By mule to the nearest railroad and packed into a freighter for transportation to a warehouse in the Bronx, New York.

The shipment was quarantined by the Agricultural Department when they learned that the hay in which the stones were packed might be a carrier for a hoof and mouth disease. A year was required to transfer the stones from their car to the hay turned and the stones repacked in American excelsior.

Workmen failed to replace the stones in proper boxes (which had been marked with reconstruction diagram and instructions) and confusion was present.

While Hearst contemplated with his multi-ton puzzle, two Ohio real estate men, Raymond Moss and William S. Edgemon, realized the value of the 800-year-old monastery and approached Hearst to purchase the structure in 1932 when newspaperman William Randolph Hearst heard of the structure.

Hearst reportedly for a half million dollars and ordered it dismantled and moved to America.

This was done by marking each piece, some 35,000 in all, and training the structure in and around the structure to purchase more than 10,000 boxes last.

Monastery Spokesman Visits Lions Club With Interesting Program

Rodney C. Smith, of the educational department of the Ancient Spanish Monastery, Miami, was guest speaker at the July 9 meeting of the Belle Glade Lions Club at the municipal country club. With a short talk and film story, Smith told the Lions of the historic building's value and origin.

The Monastery of St. Bernard of Sacramentos was built some 800 years ago in 1141, by King Alfonso VII. Years later when it ceased to be a monastery, it was used as a barn and storage area.

Guard Unit Leaves Saturday. For Two Weeks—We Hope!

Fifty-odd men and officers leave the Glades Saturday as Company "E" of the 51st Division, Florida National Guard, for a two-week summer encampment at Anniston, Ala.

With Messrs. in Lebanon, more on the way, the greatest Navy float on the alert, our representatives at United Nations exchanging "hot words" with Soviet boys, a Cuban rebel, second grade, taunting us with peace-meal release of Americans, and the saying "I need him"—well, "aint we got trouble?"

You COULD have occasion to be more proud of Company "E" of the 51st Division.

"AIN'T WE TRUSTIN?"

"If she's not it, it's not dazling!"

A personable young lady has "handed" about a dozen local "hot shots" according to Lieutenant Yerns Clark. The checks have come back "No Account," and the address given is a vacant lot in the residential section. The name, "Mrs. Carl Mack," makes more impression than does the lady's appearance, for no one to date has given a workable description of her.

She must have what is known as the "dazzling approach" and a "disarming" smile.

Lieut. Clark doesn't say whether all the victims were men!

"L. L. Shepherd Of The C. C. Flick

Mrs. Edwina Young effected her separation from the position of Executive Director of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, and Mrs. L. Price, a pioneer Glades broker, farmer and business man, has been prevailed upon to accept the position.

It is unusual to have the services of a person so well founded in the history of the community as a participant, and so ready and able to advance its advantages.

While Mrs. Young's services as a community worker will not be entirely lost she is assuming a position where her knowledge and abilities may well further the convenience of the Glades public in the new County Court House.

L. L. will soon become acquainted with the minutiae of his job and will have Mr. Bernice Harrison as his assistant.

Mrs. Cherry Unopposed Evans Seeks Re-election

Mrs. Aleese Cherry, appointed to Justice of the Peace, to the term of her husband's death, is unopposed in the county election and in the city commission, recognizing this position, she has accepted the challenge of meeting the needs of the people and the expanding economy of Florida.

"Being a businesswoman, cattle rancher and citrus grower, there is only one direction to go and that is forward!"

"Florida is going forward, and I wish to continue to be a part of this great growth by contributing to the cane sugar industry of Florida and Louisiana in breeding and cross-breeding of sugar cane for increased tonnage."

Leroy's Anti Bolita Drive Gets Help In The Glades

Acting on an anonymous tip, Constable Buck Lee, accompanied by Chief Marvin Davis and Patrolman Lewis Woodham of South Bay, and with a warrant which had been obtained from the Solicitor's office, called on "a certain party" living one half block from the South Bay park.

The Constable reports that Tito S. Lugo was just making some sales of bolita to negro customers.

Lugo was released on $2500 bond, returnable on July 22nd before Justice of the Peace Cherry at Belle Glade.

Constable Lee and Lieut. Verne Clark picked up two men on Road No. 715 Sunday and found that while one was "intoxicated" he did have an improper license and the other had a 38 loaded and a full box of cartridges.

The reported that the driver was carrying the other to Lake area, but the latter, a resident of the lake area, was a wife. She must be a bad actor, if the husband's preparation is an indication.

Large Names New Prison Assistant

Glades State Prison Farm Superintendent David R. Large announced that he had a new assistant to his position has been appointed and that a captain of the guards at the farm has been released.

C. R. Burton has been appointed as Large's assistant. Large's assistant, replacing Leonard Hamm who has been transferred to the Avon Park Prison Farm.

Large is acting as prison instructor at the prison when Large took over April 12. He has been in the position since E. K. Laffin resigned at the first of the month. Large said Laffin's resignation was brought about, as was Hamm's transfer, in the continuing program of improvement and adjustment at the institution.

Large said Hamm was given the Avon Park post to "better the program we have in mind and get better qualified personnel."

Large said he expects to see the prison as another part of Large's improvement plans, and that he expects to see some rooms are being repaired and it is only a part of the "program of repair work" going on now.

Scientists

ly to isolate all the qualities found in one variety of cane. High tonnage is usually associated with large barrel canes a high percentage of sucrose may be had in a cane that does not produce a satisfactory tonnage. Again the high tonnage and high sucrose may be combined in one plant but it's retaining qualities may not produce sufficient tonnage after the plant year. Because of more favorable conditions of climate to seven or eight are normal in the Gladelands, while Louisiana must be satisfied with only 3 year's production from one planting.

Mosaic is a destructive disease and must be eliminated or resistance to the disease must be bred into that cross found otherwise satisfactory.

The cane borer eats its way in the cane stalk and makes it near worthless as a sugar producer of the cane sugar industry of the world. High fiber and possibly some chemical factors in some varieties discourage its work.

In the Gladelands rats were at one time a major hazard of cane growers, but they have been controlled and sugar production increased through poisoning at fair economic cost.

The constant work of the scientist to produce that variety which will mature early, one that will follow the earliest but not invade the harvest time of the late maturing cane in March and April and all of these be high tonnage and sucrose producers with disease and pest defenses has found success in the Gladelands for Gladeland's use.

In a sixty to 70-day season in Louisiana, with an average tonnage of less than 20 tons per acre, and a yield of less than 9%, is compared to Gladeland's season of 150 days, an average tonnage of approximately fifty and a ten percent yield under average weather conditions.

Despite the highest wage scale in this world-wide industry which is dominated by international politics, the Gladelands produces sugar 60-day within competitive prices of off-shore areas.

Continental cane sugar is allowed approximately 5% of our national consumption and Gladeland's has its yield through the work of the scientists and efficient management to the point of handsome returns to invested capital and the beneficial employment of thousands of Americans working in the cane.

Marie Anderson of Bath, Maine, a young friend in Puerto Rico and Tom talked her into marrying him before he accepted a position with the Argentine government from 1923 to 1926.

The Breggers - Tom, Marie,

Elizabeth, born in Buenos Aires and Emily, born in Bath, Maine returned to Illinois where he got his PhD before returning to Puerto Rico. Here Edith and John were born to make this a Pan American family.

Before coming to the Everglades Station in '35 he served as an instructor in Horticulture in St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

With service as Commander of Everglades Post No. 20, President of Rotary, and several times as Director of the Chamber of Commerce, Tom's Community Service has been ably complemented by Marie in PTA, Hospital Auxiliary, Women's Club, Church organizations and general community life.

Tom and Marie have a home at 8 NW Avenue E, but it is doubtful if their many friends that the habit of energy and initiative of the years in rearing a family of four, with the professional and community accomplishments, will allow restful enjoyment of the forced present retirement.

Without the devoted work of the scientists of the USDA, The University of Florida, and of private industry such as the US Sugar Corporation, these modern advantages of Nature would not be available so easily to us.

Tom Bregger's place in Belle Glade is a place of honor. He reflects the type of citizen, Agricultural Scientists add to a community.

New Tomato Type Offered Growers

Indian River, a new disease-resistant tomato variety, has been released to commercial seed producers by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station. A limited amount of seed should be available to growers from commercial seedmen in the winter and spring.

Indian River is highly resistant to graywall, Fusarium wilt and leaf spot. It has also shown resistance to leaf mold, early blight, blossom-end rot, crease-stem and bunching. The fruit has a firm, fleshy texture and a high percentage of solids. It is highly resistant to late blight and has a long shelf life.

The producers say that to insure producers should limit their first plantings to a trial, and not plant more than 25% of their acreage to the new variety. A variety should be rejected in a single season, they warn, saw herbs and spices drying in one and some of the primitive

We left Big Meadows picnic area and drove along the Skyline Drive again. During the early morning we saw several wild deer - a big doe and some small deer. We were interested too, in the many different colored rocks at the tops of the mountains and along the sides. There were many beautiful wild flowers of all colors to see. From the Skyline Drive we went down into the lovely Shenandoah Valley. It looked quite different once we were down off the mountains. In the valley we went to see the much advertised Luray Caverns. We went on a 30 minute guided tour there and it was quite a sight to see. The rock formations growing from the ceiling and the floor are of many colors and shapes. In one section there were orange colored formations shaped like carrots and as our guide told us it looked like a "carrot patch." Another room had a chasm so deep it was called Pit's home since he was called the God of the Underworld.

After we left the caverns we drove east headed for Westmoreland State Park south of Washington. However, this camp was full. We have found this to be one of the chief hazards of traveling camp. So we changed our plans and decided to go to Williamsburg where we spent the night just outside the city in a motel.

I imagine that our day at Williamsburg will be longest remembered. It really made history come alive and in such an interesting manner. We went first to the Information Center.

There we were shown a movie that was made in Williamsburg in the restored area. The movie told about Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, the Boston Tea Party, and other incidents of those days. From the movie we went down the escalator (sliding stairs to Charles) to the bus and ride to the restored area. The first building was the Public Gaol (jail) which was built in 1704. We saw cells, the stocks, and the whipping post. The 1718 figure of Blackbeard pirates were imprisoned here and thirteen of them hanged. The Gaol was sometimes used as a madhouse. We went next to the Capitol, which was Virginia's General Assembly meeting place from 1740 to 1780. It was built in the shape of an H with the House of Burgesses on one side and the Governor's council and general courtroom on the outside. These two sides were joined in the center by a room in which they all met to pray and try to iron out their differences.

The next place we toured was the Raleigh Tavern, the most popular in Williamsburg out of some 30 in the 1700's. The Raleigh Tavern was a combination lodging place, meeting place, dining, and drinking place. In the Raleigh was famous "Apollo Room". Here balls were held that were second only in elegance to those held in the Governor's palace.

From there we walked along the Duke of Gloucester Street and stopped to look in the quaint old shops. Some that we saw were the bakery, boot and shoemaker's shop, apothecary (drug store), and weaver's shop. We saw shoes being made by hand in the shoe shop. In the weaver's shop a girl was spinning yarn with a spinning wheel. Then another room we saw the yarn being woven on a hand loom.

Next we went to the Magazine where all the guns and gun powder was kept. This place was especially interesting since we had seen in the movie the scene when the Magazine played its most dramatic role in an incident which did much to begin the revolution in Virginia.

The last part of our day in Williamsburg was spent going through several spacious homes and the Governor's palace. It was so interesting to see the smaller buildings in back of the main house. One was the kitchen, one the smokehouse, the carriage house, and others. We saw herbs and spices drying in one and some of the primitive second man on a speeding charge only until agents at Miami were ready to take Joseph Friedman, 38, of New York. Joseph Solomon, 29, also from New York, was turned over two weeks ago, Goodlett said. Both have entered pleas of guilty to forgery at Miami. Goodlett said he assumed that they would be tried and sentenced on the forgery charge and sent away for treatment as dope addicts at the same time. A copy of an FBI report given to Belle Glade police showed Friedman had a long record of arrests for such as unlawful entry, felonious assault with a knife, possession of drugs (heroin) on several occasions, vagrancy, parole violation and bookmaking to name a few.

FCC Grants Permit For Pakobee Radio Station Operation

The Federal Communications Commission announced late last week from Washington that the commission has granted an application for a radio station at Pakobee.

To be known as Garden of the Glades Co., the station will broadcast on 1250 kilocycles with 500 watts of power on daytime only. While representative of the station have conferred with Pakobee individuals including Mayor F. S. Parrish, not much information is available at this time.

Parrish provided the representatives with application data and reportedly negotiated for land from Lewis Friend at Pakobee. Friend was out of town this week and therefore unable to shed more light on the situation.

Anglican Rite Is Episcopal Sermon Topic

The subject for the sermon at the Church of Saint John the Apostle, on Sunday, July 20th, will be the Anglican Communion, given by the Vicar, The Reverend Robert N. Huffman.

Background for this sermon topic is provided by the ninth meeting of the Lambeth Conference, currently in session from July 3rd to August 10th. By invitation of the Archbishop of Canterbury, nearly six hundred bishops of the Anglican Communion are meeting at Lambeth Palace, England. The Lambeth Palace, England. The every ten years since 1867, except for interruptions caused by war. The conference is a consultative body on the doctrine and discipline of the Anglican Communion, having no actual authority concerning faith and morals, but its decisions carry great weight and are world-wide in influence.

The Anglican Communion, of which the Episcopal Church in this country is a part, is composed of those Churches which have received their bishops from English succession, continue the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Church of England, and are in communion with the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Communion consists of sixteen autonomous Churches, and missionary districts dependent on one or another of these Churches, numbering about forty million baptized members. It is a world-wide Christian fellowship.

BIBLE

LABOR IS A BLESSING

By Rev. August Koerber

"Ye have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing," St. Luke V. 5.

It is mainly due to the teachings of Jesus and his example of the Christian Church that the work has been given a proper view and evaluation of labor. Paganism considered all human toil degrading and ignominious. It was fit for slaves, but not for men. The one condemned to earn a livelihood by the work of his hands was looked upon as a poor wretch and an object of pity or scorn. Unfortunately there are some Christians who seem to lean heavily to such a view.

It is indeed true that the father of our race was told, "The sweat of thy face thou shalt eat," as if labor had been imposed on man as a punishment. However, prior to the entry of sin into the world it is not in vain that we are told to put him into the Garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it.

Labor was meant to be a blessing and indeed a blessing it is. There is no more to be pined than for man to be able to work, due to physical infirmity or he who is able to work can find no opportunity to perform the tasks for which his natural capacities have fitted him. Paganism is the condition of the one possessed of a sound mind and a healthy body, who can find no object upon which to devote his powers of mind and body.

That such is not our happy lot is a distinct mark of God's which favor when opportunity is given us as for profitable labor, not merely the sake of the wages we earn, but for using to good purpose the powers of mind and body with which a beneficent creator endowed us.

These labors will become all the sweeter to us, if we perform them as a privilege sent by God and if we carry the thought of God with us into our work.

Yonder man is not earning an abundance of money in the pursuit of your daily vocation, but he is using his God-given powers to the glory of God and to the benefit of his fellow man. He will bring God nearer to you, or you nearer to God and you will learn to value the love of the Divine Giver higher than the size of any earthly gift.

The Book

It is always a good idea to learn something about the make-up of any book you are studying. Imagine opening your new book on literature, social studies, or philosophy and beginning on the first page with out glancing through the book, reading the introduction, and studying the table of contents. If this procedure is necessary with an ordinary book how much more so with a book of books. And study is needed if we wish to learn the truths of the Book of books.

How many of these can you answer?

Name the two major divisions of the Bible.

How many books are in each division?

What is the first five books of the Bible called?

Who wrote them?

Name the last book of the Old Testament.

Name the last book of the New Testament.

Name the last book of the New Testament.

In which book do we find "The Ten Commandments?"

In which book do we find the Lord's Prayer?

The Man By The Side Of The Road

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put a sign on the highway telling how good they were. "Buy a hot dog, the side of the road and cry," "Buy a hot dog, Mister."

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He got his son from college to help him. But then something happened. His son said, "Father haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse." Whereupon the father thought, "Well my son has been to college. So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders. Took down his advertising signs. And no longer bothered to stand by the highway to sell hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell off almost overnight. "You're right," said the father said to the boy. "We are certainly in the middle of a great depression."

A foot in the door... with vitamins

If a pebble rings your bell and tries to tell you some vitamins, here's something you should bear in mind. But chances are he's not a physician or a pharmacist. He's no judge of your health, and there's no way he can know what sort of vitamins or nutritional supplements you need—if you need any at all. So, it's just common sense to get professional medical advice before you spend your money.

Arthritis May Register Now

July has been designated as Arthritis Registration Month by the pharmacists of Florida and the Florida Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, according to Bob Wilson, pharmacist at Sullivan's Pharmacy at Belle Glade.

This is the second registration conducted in the state and many arthritics failed to register during the first registration in January.

Bob explains that this is a free registration and is an attempt to find out how many arthritics are in the state of Florida. He continues, "The Florida Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation will send free literature on the arthritis problem to all arthritics who register. This bi-monthly publication, FLORIDA ARTHRITIS NEWS, will be sent regularly to those who desire it."

This second registration, as well as the first, is a public service being rendered by the pharmacists of the state of Florida, and it is their desire to make available all authentic literature which is published by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

From the first registration it was learned that approximately 40 per cent of the arthritics who registered are not receiving any medical attention. Encouragement is being given to these arthritics to see their family physician immediately, for many sufferers could be saved from the crippling effects of the disease if they receive medical attention promptly.

Frank Hobson Praises Police

Following a letter of June 20 to Belle Glade Police Chief Charles Goodlett in which F. O. Hobson, former Belle Glade High School Principal, praised the work of Patrolman A. J. Folsen for his work as school zone officer the past year, a second letter has been received by Goodlett in which Hobson added another pat on the back.

Hobson's letter said: "I want to thank you for the wonderful co-operation you and your boys have shown during my stay as principal of Belle Glade High School. I have never called on you for anything that your response wasn't most prompt."

"I trust Mr. Morris will receive the same co-operation as I have and I am sure he will be most co-operative with you."
